

Local development framework

Annual monitoring report 2006/07

By law, every year we must write a monitoring report on the local development framework. We are still preparing the local development framework, which will become the plan for how we use land and space in the borough.

We need to collect evidence to prove that we have achieved our planning targets. This can help us to make sure there is a better quality of life for everyone, now and in the future.

Our yearly monitoring reports must report on how we are doing in preparing the local development framework and whether we are on target for it replacing the unitary development plan.

- During the year, we developed a 'statement of community involvement', which explains how we will involve local people in making planning decisions.
- Overall, we are meeting the target to replace the 1995 unitary development plan with a local development framework.
- Next year, we will send our 'core strategy', to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government (CLG). The core strategy sets out the principles that we use when we make planning decisions (such as making sure that any houses we build don't harm the environment) and is the main part of our local development framework.

Our yearly monitoring report collects evidence on how we used land and space in the borough from April 2006 to March 2007. Our main findings were as follows.

- 524 homes were built in Barking and Dagenham, which was above the target in the London plan of 2004.
- In the past year, we gave planning permission for 592 homes to be built.
- Over 30% of all the extra homes built in the last year were built for people who earn less than the average wage. (Our target was 25%.)
- Most of the new homes are one-and two-bedroom flats.

Over the next 15 years, we want to build more than 20,000 homes. And we want to make sure that more of these homes are bigger homes for families. When we build more homes, we need to make sure that there will be enough schools, doctors and public transport (so people can get to their jobs easily, for example). We also want to create communities that are more environmentally-friendly and who use their vehicles less.

We also found the following.

- People living in Barking and Dagenham currently have good access to doctors and libraries, but they need more dentists and better north-south public transport connections.
- Some land in Barking and Dagenham is reserved for business use. On land in the Dagenham Dock area, hundreds of local jobs were created.
- More household waste was produced during the year, but more of this waste was recycled than last year.
- Also in Barking and Dagenham, there are a number of waste companies that deal with residents' waste, waste from local businesses and waste from outside the borough. This amount of waste has fallen over the previous year.
- Even though renewable energy sources, such as wind turbines, are being installed in many new buildings, we will need to install more.
