Our ambition:

All who work with or on behalf of the children and young people of Barking and Dagenham undertake to promote and realise the following Inclusion Principles:

1. The importance of maintaining an unconditional positive regard for all of our children and young people.
2. Schools are essential bases for all children and young people that provide safe people and spaces to support their wellbeing.
3. All behaviour is communication.
4. Language is a powerful means of communication and the way we use it directly impacts on the outcomes of our interactions.
5. Nurture is central to the development of wellbeing.
6. Children and young people's learning and wellbeing are understood developmentally.
7. Best quality communication between all professionals in all services is key to ensuring effective safeguarding and contextual safeguarding within both the school and the wider community.
8. The importance of facilitating effective transitions at all relevant points in children's and young people's lives.
9. A commitment to continually develop opportunities for our children and young people to realise their aspirations and ambitions within their own community.
