

Appendix A: Self-assessment form

This self-assessment form should be completed by the complaints officer and it must be reviewed and approved by the landlord's governing body at least annually.

Once approved, landlords must publish the self-assessment as part of the annual complaints performance and service improvement report on their website. The governing body's response to the report must be published alongside this.

Landlords are required to complete the self-assessment in full and support all statements with evidence, with additional commentary as necessary.

We recognise that there may be a small number of circumstances where landlords are unable to meet the requirements, for example, if they do not have a website. In these circumstances, we expect landlords to deliver the intentions of the Code in an alternative way, for example by publishing information in a public area so that it is easily accessible.

| 1.3            | A resident does not have to use the word ‘complaint’ for it to be treated as such. Whenever a resident expresses dissatisfaction landlords must give them the choice to make complaint. A complaint that is submitted via a third party or representative must be handled in line with the landlord’s complaints policy. | Y                | Published Complaints Policy | Information contained under Section 2 What is a complaint. |
| 1.4            | Landlords must recognise the difference between a service request and a complaint. This must be set out in their complaints policy. A service request is a request from a resident to the landlord requiring action to be taken to put something right. Service requests are not complaints, but must be                 | Y                | Published Complaints Policy | Information contained under Section 3 Service Request      |

| 1.5 | A complaint must be raised when the resident expresses dissatisfaction with the response to their service request, even if the handling of the service request remains ongoing. Landlords must not stop their efforts to address the service request if the resident complains.                                                                                    | Y | Published Complaints Policy | Information contained under Section 3 Service Request                              |
| 1.6 | An expression of dissatisfaction with services made through a survey is not defined as a complaint, though wherever possible, the person completing the survey should be made aware of how they can pursue a complaint if they wish to. Where landlords ask for wider feedback about their services, they also must provide details of how residents can complain. | Y | Survey Scripts                              | Our survey scripts indicates that customers are informed of the right of complaint |

| 4.1            | Landlords must have a person or team assigned to take responsibility for complaint handling, including liaison with the Ombudsman and ensuring complaints are reported to the governing body (or equivalent). This Code will refer to that person or team as the 'complaints officer'. This role may be in addition to other duties. | Y                | Complaints Procedure | Under Section 4          |
| 4.2            | The complaints officer must have access to staff at all levels to facilitate the prompt resolution of complaints. They must also have the authority and autonomy to act to resolve disputes promptly and fairly.                                                                                                                     | Y                | Complaints Procedure | Under Section 4          |
| 4.3            | Landlords are expected to prioritise complaint handling and a culture of learning from complaints. All relevant staff must be suitably trained in the importance of complaint handling. ## Section 5: The Complaint Handling Process

| Code provision | Code requirement                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Comply: Yes / No | Evidence                                    | Commentary / explanation                               |

| 5.1            | Landlords must have a single policy in place for dealing with complaints covered by this Code. Residents must not be treated differently if they complain.                                                                                                                        | Y                | Published Complaints Policy | Information contained at the link provided.            |
| 5.2            | The early and local resolution of issues between landlords and residents is key to effective complaint handling. It is not appropriate to have extra named stages (such as 'stage 0' or 'informal complaint') as this causes unnecessary confusion.                               | Y                | Published Complaints Policy | Information contained under Section 4 Complaint Stages |
| 5.3            | A process with more than two stages is not acceptable under any circumstances as this will make the complaint process unduly long and delay access to the Ombudsman.                                                                                                              | Y                | Published Complaints Policy | The Policy confirms only 2 internal stages             |
| 5.4            | Where a landlord's complaint response is handled by a third party (e.g. a contractor or independent adjudicator) at any stage, it must form part of the two stage complaints process set out in this Code. Residents must not be expected to go through two complaints processes. | Y                | Complaints Procedure                        | Under Section 11                                       |

| 5.5 | Landlords are responsible for ensuring that any third parties handle complaints in line with the Code.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Y | Complaints Procedure                        | Under Section 11                                       |
| 5.6 | When a complaint is logged at Stage 1 or escalated to Stage 2, landlords must set out their understanding of the complaint and the outcomes the resident is seeking. The Code will refer to this as “the complaint definition”.
